

CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT REPORT SEPTEMBER 2024

At the Desk:

13 online library cards were issued to residents.

14 directional questions were answered by the Circulation staff.

8 patrons used Curveside pickup.

1 birthday bookmark was given out to a patron.

Department Highlights:

Joyce, Crystine, and Lorena promoted the library at the Farmers Market, providing informational and promotional library materials.

Karen D. celebrated her 25th work anniversary!

Lorena created the marketing materials for Library Card Sign-up Month and Circ helped new patrons enter a drawing to win a Family Brookfield Zoo 1-year membership. We had 29 entries and the winner was Michael Small!

Throughout September, Circ helped collect bookmark designs for the Friends of the Library bookmark contest. There were 49 entries and three winners were chosen: Sarah Kroese, Charlie, and Caroline Hermann!

Lorena created various marketing materials for the Friends 40th Anniversary. She also interviewed with Sue and Patti on PHTV4 to help promote upcoming activities.

The Fan Con Committee decorated the library and the display case to help promote the big event. Circ also helped in preparing the giveaway bags and crafts. The committee is very thankful for all of their help.

Lorena helped come up with program ideas, craft activities, layout, schedule, marketing materials, and various other things to create an eventful day for Fan Con. She helped the new chair of the committee understand the role and get comfortable with creating a large scale library event for the community. Christina did a fantastic job planning and leading this committee and she will continue to provide exciting things for Fan Con.

Lorena created posts and videos promoting Library Card Sign-up Month and Fan Con on Social Media platforms.

September saw us return to our normal packed program schedule after Labor Day week. We started with a well-attended presentation from about the Eastland disaster that featured not one but two granddaughters of survivors. A patron also brought in a large model of the Eastland that the everyone, including the presenters, were very interested in.

As predicted, the Cheese 101 program was a big hit. The presenter came highly recommended, and she has several other cheese programs, so I foresee more installments of this in the future.

The Glowforge and Scrapbook classes were filled-up and well-received, as always. The Glowforge class was a bit different, we usually make the items in the class, but since these projects were a little "bigger" than usual, I pre-made most of the pieces for people, then did one "live" so people could see how the software and machine worked. Then they glued things together and painted them up, another more "crafty" process than we usually do.

I was disappointed with attendance at the Chicago Arabic Music Ensemble concert. We had 34 people registered, already lower than our typical concerts, and only 15 people attended. This was one of our first program efforts to connect more with our local Arab American community, we will keep trying. The Middle Eastern Cooking Demo coming up in November is nearly full, I have high hopes for that one.

Marketing/Publicity/Outreach

The Big Event for September was, of course, Fan Con. Public Services Librarian Christina Vincent chaired the Fan Con committee this year, and the whole thing went very well. Meticulously planned, the library welcomed around 445 attendees for the festivities that day. We also continued to provide typical library services despite all the commotion. Most of our patrons wondered what was going on, but nobody had any complaints. Deliverv

Other than that, Tina and I filmed the October Channel 4 spot.

Local History

We are gearing up to do a deep dive back into metadata tagging the remaining Regional photos during the parking lot construction.

Collection Development

Our Fiction shifting project is still in the planning stages. We are continuing to work with Tech Services (whom, let's face it, are doing the majority of the work on this) on authors who are split across the collection. Some authors have books both in Fiction and Mystery. That tends to be confusing for patrons, so as new books from authors come in, we've been making the decision as to whether they best belong in Fiction or Mystery, then make that switch. That, plus the recent weeding for the August book sale, has left us with some need to move things around with a shifting project.

Other

PS staff continues to impress. We even have patrons using the chat function on the website now to thank PS staff for helping them out days earlier.

Respectfully submitted, Matt Matkowski Head of Public Services

YOUTH & TEEN SERVICES DEPARTMENT REPORT SEPTEMBER 2024

Highlights of the Month:

Tina always has fun at Nature Hour, but going inside the butterfly tent is one of her favorite things to do! Children learned about the Monarch life cycle, heard stories, sang songs, and got to see the butterflies up close.

Carla's favorite programs of the month were Fall Magnets for grades 3-5 and Pumpkin Crafternoon for grades 4-8. The kids showed their creativity with splatter paint techniques and different color pumpkins!

Claire's favorite program this month was Macrame Backpack Keychains for grades 6-12. The kids had a great time following video instructions to create personalized woven accessories in their favorite colors.

Mary Kate enjoyed planning Autumn Leaves & Crafting Please, for grades K-3. The kids were able to create 4 different art pieces using paint, paper, chalk, and markers. She also had fun at Little Wigglers, the baby story time. The kids were so cute during bubbles and playtime.
